Re: JallianWala Bagh Massacre

Centenary of JallianWala Bagh Massacre is approaching fast. The massacre further exposed the ghastly murderous nature of British Raj. This event strengthened the unity of the Indian masses and gave a new impetus to the Indian Independence movement. It is our duty to commemorate this historic event and pay our respect to all those innocent people who were peacefully protesting against the policies of British colonial power.

The massacre has been condemned all over the world and various British politicians at different times have regretted the incidence. Lately the last Tory Prime Minister David Cameron regretted the incident during his visit to Amritsar. Officially the British government has not apologised in Parliament for this ghastly killing of innocent people including children.

In order for a successful even it is most important for a wider involvement of all progressive organisations including the ones from across the border.

I am extending the invitation to various organisations to a meeting to be held on 25th February 2017 at 2pm. at 88 Hasting Road, Leicester LE5 0HL where we will discuss an action plan for the event.

For any further information contact me.

I look forward to meeting you.

In solidarity,

Joginder Bains
General Secretary
